Avatar for zelda_pinwheel

Most of us would certainly agree that ZP has gone too long without a proper avatar. I personally think we should do this properly and provide candidate avatars and then vote on it. Whaddaya think? Post your preferred image of her (hmm, do we really know she's a she?) here.

Actually it's a great idea that she get one cause I'm tired of seeing that interrogation point in my 'Friends' page. It's also while I picked up my old one up again so as not to impose that bloody question mark on all of you.

BTW TommyCooper you had a cute one where is it?

I'll break the ice.

It's oversized for proper scaling down, and I thought the bright colors go with her personality.

(I originally made it in Powerpoint, so it's got some ease of adjustment built in -- also explains why it's a bit rough 'round the edges) my golly ! all this ado just for an avatar ? i hardly know what to think. 😊 (except possibly that y'all have too much free time on your hands and / or that the forums must be quiet tonight... 😊) in fact i do have one more or less in reserve which i just haven't gotten around to uploading.

that's right, i'm lazy.

or maybe i'm incognito, because i'm a spy. (insert smiley with fedora tapping his nose covertly here).

or maybe i'm an adept of the Quantum Church of Uncertainty (co-founded by Heisenberg and Schrödinger), and that question mark is my avatar (but only when you're not looking at it). (what do you mean, "do i have whiskers / is my middle name "strange" / am i simultaneously here and there" ?).

some of you may even have seen my other avatar already...

but now VR went to all this trouble of starting a thread just for my little question mark, and Natch has even gone to MORE trouble and made me an avatar (!!!), and this is looking to be good fun... and far be it from me to cut short any potential abject unquantifiable silliness...

so i think i'll wait a while before i add any avatar, and see if anybody else want to play.

incentive : i promise to use every avatar submitted for at least one day (Natch obviously will be first !), and possibly longer, depending on my mood.

and thanks, Natch, for the alert 😊(and the rest)

Oh, ho! You do not know what you have just committed to, ZP. But we'll hold you to it. This could be phun, indeed! But I assure you that I will, as always, try to remain civil.....for awhile anyway.

The atmosphere here at MR tends a bit towards scifi (and more lately farce, but that'll be the subject of a different avatar). The Trekkies won't be too surprised that the first image I had when I saw the name zelda_pinwheel was of Shalna, played by Angelique Pettyjohn, in the episode on Triskelia, a distant planet with three suns. Note the pinwheel shaped emblem in the background of the first image. There you go, a perfectly suitable candidate for an avatar. Alternatively, the second image could do nicely, too. Mind you, I'm not saying which character applies to you.

actually, i suspect i do know what i have just committed to (which is why i made the minimum one day only); but make no mistake, i am rubbing my hands together with gleeful anticipation.

well, if you were trying for actual true-to-life resemblance, i should mention i have a lot more hair than the guy on the left in the second photo... or at least, mine is in different places. and i don't have much silver lamé in my wardrobe, apart from a pair of sandals. but it's a worthy effort, Vivaldi ! and as promised, i will definitely be sporting the shiny bikini and over-inflated hair for at least one full day.

Well I definitely think NatCh should rule. We can't have someone as delightful as zelda_pinwheel in this Forum without assigning her an arbitrary avatar.

And, while I'm at it, I think we should arbitrarily change Patricia's (of South Wales) user name to 'Ebook Goddess'.

I have always imagined that Paradise will be a kind of library.

While we are on the subject of pinwheels (I love that animated one you posted), why stop at just one.

How about a sea of pinwheels (oh, alright, a wall of them).

Let's see you animate this one... nudge nudge 😊😊 my my, you have had a busy night ! (well it was night for me, anyway. a girl's gotta get her beauty sleep if she wants to keep looking like this.)

i'm feeling the avatar love 🤩 i've never had any nicer present than all these avatars ! thanks slayda for the animation (even if it only works when it wants to) ! thanks Wood for your highly pertinent contribution, nicely done ! extra props for representing the original Z of the P... you sir win a fish ! nate the great, that is a very cute little elf ! but the link doesn't work ? nick, HOW did you do that ??? did you really make ALL those pinwheels ??? amazing !! i feel i should come over and blow on all of them. you just tell me where you live and i'll stop by a little later 😊. Marc, the psychic mind-link is clearly still in full-force, it's like looking in a mirror. hugz and pastrees to you too chéri, i might even let you have my croissant aux amandes (it's my favorite pastrees). in fact, pastrees for everyone ! that's better than a fish anyway, right ?

i wanted to wait a bit longer but now i've seen them all i can't help myself !! must... add.... avatar !! as promised of course i'm starting with Natch's avatar, he is after all the one to break the ice ! since you seem to like the animation i added i'll use that version, i hope that's all right with you. 😊 but anybody else who wants to make one I AM STILL ACCEPTING AVATARS !! i like this so much i will NEVER close this thread.

i'm probably just overexcited... maybe i should have stopped before the third cup of coffee.

☺to everybody !

ZP, MobileRead. ZP, Unutterable Silliness. ZP, Director of Farce. ZP, Pirandello. All seem like logical associations to me. A Pirandello character might be just the ticket. But which one? The stepdaughter in Six Characters in Search of an Author? She can't control her amusement over the actions of others. Or maybe the Manager who prompts ever more madness? Or how about a spectator from the audience? One that yells "Asylum! Asylum!" at the author but who returns for every performance. Perhaps you're Pirandello's muse. There must have been an inspirational source for his chaos. Or maybe you're Pirandello himself. Pirandello, risen from the undead, incessantly tramping the streets of Paris (with Renée Z.) looking for blighters. She (it) is in search of blood. But you, you search for souls.

i'm sensing that perhaps a title change may also be in order... ("Zelda Pinwheel, Her Unutterable Silliness, Director of Farce, Reincarnation of Pirandello's Zombie and part-time Muse, inspirational Source of Chaos..." do you think that will fit on the "title" line of my profile ?)

Asylum ! Asylum ! you're right, i yell that all the time, i search for it, and others want to send me to one...

aah, Pirandello. brilliant contribution from the man who started it all, thanks Vivaldi...

ps how do i add a line to the end of my profile (under my shiny new avatar) ? i want to add the credit line there, but i can't find how to do it so for now i had to settle for adding it as my signature...

You could add it to the avatar image. Not quite what you want but maybe close.

oooh an avatar from nekokami !! yay !! i can't wait ! AND a script !! yay !! i love scripts... in which case i will have to add the credit line to the actual avatar like slayda suggested. unless you can also change my signature with the script ? or some other text displayed in my profile ? should i put all the avatars all together in a directory online somewhere ? can i dynamically add more avatars without modifying the script ? what language will you write it in ? will you show it to me, so i can try to figure out how it works ?

(me jumping up and down, this is all too much excitement)

I can't easily change the sig line with the same script and I'm not sure how to keep a separate script in sync, but I might be able to add the credit below the avatar image. Putting all the avatars together in a directory online somewhere would be one way, but as long as we have a list of URLs where they can be found, that would be sufficient. You'll be able to edit the script to add more avatars as they come in. I'll probably write it in perl, which you can read to see how it works. I usually comment my code. 😊

Don't look for it before this weekend, though. 🍷

Edit: BTW, you can get a maneki neko like the one in my avatar at Mrs. Lin's Kitchen. Though you might prefer this one:

yay !!! no pressure, you just do whatever / whenever you want and i'll be happy.

yes, abundant comments please, that would be brilliant. between *2IMP.pl from Nick and your script pretty soon i'm going to start learning perl by osmosis. well, it will be a good change from html, although in theory ActionScript was the priority... 🤖

i suspect i'm getting far too excited about code. i must be a geek.

see, this is the beauty of collaboration. in my wildest, most risqué dreams i never would have thought of a cattle prod as an avatar. i'm a little afraid to touch it in fact. that's VR, always doing his best to expand our collective horizon and take the discussion to a new level. 😊

Meaning of Zelda_pinwheel...

OK thanks to VR and others, we have now filled a void that existed for far too long—no avatar for Zelda.

Time for some real soul searching...

Where/How did the name 'Zelda_pinwheel' come from/about?

Anybody want to conjecture? Inquiring minds want to know!

We'll leave the proof to Zelda!

i hate to disappoint you nick, but i assure you that the true origins of the name "zelda pinwheel" are far less entertaining than the avatar creation madness (which i fervently encourage to continue !).

The user name entry in the wiki is a good place to provide interesting data. Everyone who has a wiki name should fill in their user name anyway.

E-ink user mainly

There you go didn't I tell you it would be gorgeous with animation?

I really do like the fact that it has a still mode, it allows seeing the letters and when it spins at half speed, it looks like a traditional pinwheel.

That thing is really you stop to read and blast full speed with an answer.

Enjoying!!

With continuous animation but not as good as the NatCh/Zelda one.

i beleive the traditional prize in such situations would be "a fish", but i suppose we can make an exception for you (because it's you...), pastry it is.

ooh, i'm so sorry ! so i guess that's actually a bandage on your hand ? and here i thought it was just another sticky note. maybe i should put up little velvet ropes around it (it will be back some day... i like it too much to just let it gather dust forever, motionless in my "mr avatars" directory...) (that's right, i need a whole directory, just for my mr avatars). here, i'll give a little kiss and make it better. 😊

i notice you have not yet submitted an avatar for our viewing pleasure, Planet Head...

Wackiness is a bit extreme, though. VR stands for Village Idiot and little more.

And Planet Head, I have to stand and applaud. I literally fell on the floor when I saw your yellow stickies. Bravo!

Hey! Who put that sticky on Planet Head about "Train VR's dog not to poop on the flowers"? I don't poop on flowers - never have, never will. I'll confess that I did eat homework once. Actually, that got us all into trouble. My master was Vice President Dick Cheney then. See, he wasn't always the way he is now. He used to give me treats and belly rubs all the time. Then one day I felt a little mischevious (who, me?) and I saw this nice stack of papers in his briefcase. I had a great time chewing them and scattering them all around. The next day, my master was not happy. Neither was GWB. Next thing I knew, we were in Iraq. I could have told them the report was on Iran, not Iraq. But who listens to a dog? Anyway, mea culpa. If I lick your face will it make it better?

Mobileread.com Gang: Avatar for zelda_pinwheel, v.1, 28 April 2008.

imp conversion of Mobileread.com's thread of the best of the best avatars for zelda_pinwheel series (pictures only). I will do others as well. to avoid confusion in case of further revisions i have copied the title of the thread's post, including version number and date (they correspond to the mobi version i may convert at some time).

conversion notes : thanks to Nick's (that's me) brilliant conversion tool, i can make an .imp 1150 and a 1200 version with very little extra effort on my part, so i have included both here. the color illustrations make the 1200 particularly worthwhile.

i'm usually surprised when i wake up. "reality" (such as it is...) tends to be rather a shock after the splendor of my oneiric environment. well, i say splendor... other adjectives may apply. in this particular context i may add however that in addition to surprise my reaction is one of rare delight. (very rare.)

what can i say, there's just something about that sleek polished finish, that magnificent cranium, the flawless circuits, the faint gleam of diodes in a darkened room... i go all aquiver myself just thinking about it. someone open a window, the screen is getting all steamed up.

the avatar sticky should stay though ; you never know what else it might inspire.

(hmm, is there an echo in here ?... 😊) much appreciated. now i can peruse my collection of avatars from my bed, as i drop off to sleep. i can't wait to see what effect it will have on the nighttime activity of my subconscious. i expect it will be interesting, to say the least.

NRAPALLO (WE CALL HIM NICK)

the avatars are starting to pile up (not that that is in any way a bad thing...) so i thought i'd best be moving along to the next one in line. we have the litterate and insightful RWood to thank for it. watch out, Zelda is not as sedate as she may appear in this photo...

To Zelda or not to Zelda, that is the question.

Still waters run deep.

Beneath the calm surface a torrent rages.

A bromide a day keeps the cops away.

Zelda, Zelda, my kingdom for a Zelda.

Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the most Zelda of all?

i've noticed quite a lot of new avatars around, i think you know who we can thank for the trend (follow my eyes...).

and how appropriate that Nick can be enthusiastic about 2 avatars in one day, because... can it be ??? i think it is... that's right, "and now, walking up the red carpet, Zelda is resplendent in an avatar by Nick. Sources have confirmed that it is an original creation just for her."

Zelda also has heard that you can get away with talking about yourself in the third person if you just put quotes around it, and pretend it's someone else. italics help as well.

oh, ouch, she forgot the quotes just then. no italics either.
sheesh.

i've noticed quite a lot of new avatars around, i think you know who we can thank for the trend (follow my eyes...).

and how appropriate that Nick can be enthusiastic about 2 avatars in one day, because... can it be ??? i think it is... that's right, "and now, walking up the red carpet, Zelda is resplendent in an avatar by Nick. Sources have confirmed that it is an original creation just for her."

Zelda also has heard that you can get away with talking about yourself in the third person if you just put quotes around it, and pretend it's someone else. italics help as well.

oh, ouns, she forgot the quotes just then. no italics either. sheesh.

Nick's shower stall wall looks great on you, ZP. Ahem.

You can also have conversations with yourself by hiding the text. Fun!

I already said fun, you idiot!

Awwwww..... I would have thought that since this 'avatar of the day' was first posted, it could have 'come to life' with some of your animation skills. 🤖

Guess I'll have to wait for your original spinning pinwheel avatar to see some animation... (did I mention that one of my undergrad degrees was a speciality in Computer Graphics!)

All this switching around of avatars is giving me a headache. I think I'll play some soothing music with my new sidekick. Someone said something about avatars with guitars. Careful what you wish for.

:emotifaction: <-- will be posting that until it becomes an official M.R. Smiley.

wiser words were never spoken. well, rarely. perhaps on occasion. not too often though. wiser words are sometimes spoken, but it's rare, although it has been known to happen, however really not often, and certainly less than once a day. much less. almost never, in fact.

wait let me start that again. wiser words...

I'm really concerned for Cthulhu. Look at his avatar. It looks like it's from a toddler's board book. "Oh, no!", says little Marc, playing together with little Adrian. "It's a cute little Cthulhu, the Old One! What's on the next page?" "Let me see!", says Adrian. "Is it a poussin? Or maybe a puddle canard eating a little blue-finned poison?" "Can I have its intestines, please?", asks Marc. "I want his intestines!!" Anyway, let's seque safely away from there and move on to the possibility of designing an avatar worthy of Chtu...of Ctuhl...CTHLU...The Old One. Now I'm rather fond of this little number. How about you? It looks mighty scary to me. Imagine that comin' at ya! Anyway, please post your ideas here.

ooh, who's publishing that children's book ??? i want to buy it for every child i know.

i second your suggestion for a new avatar for ol' squid bucket (it's easier to spell...) ; that one is scarier.

i imagine we'll have more to choose from soon though... 🤔

This may be a kindness on his part. If we could see the full horror of The Old One then we would be utterly consumed with fear (and probably utterly consumed by him as well).

Seems to me that just animating one o'them pinwheels would be sufficient.

Hm. Can't do better than the suggestion above for our Ancient Tentacled Friend, other than to suggest that we dye it green.

Zelda, I still owe you an avatar, and I haven't forgotten. It's taken a software upgrade, a massive reorganization of hundreds of files downloaded from teh intarweb, and

Oh, and you folks are aware that the more knowledge of Elder Beings you have, the lower your maximum sanity score is, right? (What? You HAVEN'T spent hours playing the Call of Cthulhu roleplaying game? Oh, wait, maybe that explains a few things about my own sanity level... and I thought it was living with teenagers!)

Well, you see, I do look after my guests, and had anticipated giving each and every attendee a surprise. Alas, whilst I'd hoped for a subsequent review from you that contained numerous mentions of the word "flabbergasted", I'll have to amaze you with my culinary prowess instead of your awe at the pallet upon pallet of fresh animalcula-on-"cheese" (with a red, red "wine" jus) I've already had shipped in, just for your approval and our own humble edification at your honest review and the pedagogy of such a specialist gourmand.

You see, you are meant to be there. It'll be a delicious evening, trust me.

Cheers,
Marc

If you consider "meat" as being "muscle", and attach "-like" to the end of each of the above, I think you'll be perfectly satisfied with the menu.

Naturally. I relieved the ever-unreliable Friar John Cor of some of his tax burden myself. The poor brute went down quicker than haggis down my gullet with just the lightest taps with the flat of my claymore.

Old enough for ya?

I'm sure you mean "sweetmeats", and that's NOT what goes in a sporran. Oats do.

If you want to put sweaty meat in your sporran, well, not only will it spoil the oats, it really is your own affair and I for one don't need the details.

(Yes, I really did just presume to educate a Scotsman on the proper use of a sporran. Such presumption has been the basis of many interesting conversations, occasional bar fights, and from time to time getting laid, so no, I don't apologize.)

Incidentally, the shindig is 3.14and-so-on weeks ago tonight, at midnight, sharp (oh, so very, very sharp). Don't worry, I have the means to get you there on-time (some spinning may be involved). Time is relative but you can choose your friends.
