

In the Winter 2017 issue of Potomac Flyer I said the reason to operate is the fun you will make. Here my friend Pete LaGuardia and Bry are switching the meat plant on my railroad and I am right.

Several times I have tried to make the point that the rules of operations are simple and common sense. Better yet, what you could consider the cardinal rules can be covered in a page or two. I did that with the Column "Some Handy Rules" (Potomac Flyer Summer 2016). Andy Sperandio did the same thing in two columns, "Operate like an old head" in the April 2010 issue of Model Railroader and "Two useful rules" in the October 2013 issue.
